AGRIBUSINESS INVESTMENT PARTNERS

INTERNATIONAL AGRICULTURE - INVESTMENT AND PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Our client is a UK-based investor with diverse, long-term international farming interests. They have a buy-and-build strategy, growing commodity crops and permanent crops with a strong commitment to regenerative techniques. This requires a broad perspective on the global market dynamics of each specific crop. They continuously evaluate new long-term opportunities.

They are looking for individuals to join the team in the UK office who can grow into the role of identifying, analysing and project managing these buy-and-build investments. This would suit someone with 0-5 years' experience; applications from highly motivated graduates or those early in their career are welcome.

The successful candidate(s) will:

- Have an affinity with the agricultural sector, with a university degree (BSc, BEng, MSc, MEng or PhD) in agriculture, biology, plant sciences, forestry, natural sciences, soil sciences, hydrology, or other degrees related to the environmental sciences or the food sector.
- Be interested in building a long-term career in the agricultural sector.
- Possess excellent analytical and project management skills.
- Be willing to travel, curious and eager to learn.

For the successful applicant(s) this is an excellent opportunity to be a key member of a small team within a forward thinking and dynamic, international agricultural investment business to drive, manage, develop and execute a strategy with long term owners. The successful candidate(s) can expect an excellent remuneration package.

Please send a CV and covering letter to carl.atkin@terravost.com or for an informal discussion about the role please email your contact details to arrange a call.
